that were conceptualised in the run-up to the Biennale. The first journal, titled 'Through the Glass, Darkly,' was launched on November 27 and includes podcasts, lens-based works, and critical texts that explore the concept of remembrance, living life in uncertainty during the lockdown, the aftermath of environmental disasters, and the relevance of images in the present day. Andreas Langfeld, Katja Stuke, Oliver Sieber, Amitesh Grover, Nicolas Polli, Paribartana Mohanty, Parvathi Nayar, Nayantara Nayar, Sohrab Hura, Tanvi Mishra, and Yuvan Aves are among the contributors to the journal's first issue. The second journal, titled 'Maps of Disquiet,' is set to debut on December 4, 2021. Pro Helvetia Swiss Arts Council, New Delhi, is supporting the Journal initiative. Rheumatoid arthritis can be very aggressive and it may lead to other systemic complication as well as health problems, which include heart disease, diabetes and osteoporosis. Hence, it is so significant to witness a doctor, if you tend to have symptoms, which may be associated with rheumatoid arthritis as soon as possible, early intervention as well as aggressive management are significant to preserve mobility, function as well as higher quality of life. ADVERTISEMENT
